TL;DR

Evaluate Seawing through identifiable company details and product-specific records. The references below demonstrate the outdoor catalog scope without treating a product photograph as proof of factory ownership, certification or production capacity. Use the company identity shown on this page for correspondence, and keep technical questions attached to the relevant product link.

Keep the comparison traceable

Keep one specification sheet for each shortlisted version. Put the product URL, size, colour and dated photographs at the top, then distinguish published facts from requested changes. If the brief combines a tent, a cooking item and clothing, give each its own line and quantity. Their dimensions, materials and accessories describe different things and should not be merged into a single specification. For example, a tent’s packed length is a storage measurement, a kettle’s external dimensions do not state its usable capacity, and backpack litres do not describe torso fit. When a field is absent, leave it marked for confirmation instead of borrowing a value from a visually similar item. Before comparing quotations, check that they refer to the same version and supply scope. Record any substitutions explicitly, including the affected component, colour or packaging. This makes later sample review more useful: the reviewer can compare an identified item against a written requirement instead of trying to reconstruct a decision from a photo and a price.

Compare catalog references

Use the individual specifications to build your shortlist. Each photograph below belongs to the named reference; other products are shown for comparison and are not included with this item.

Automatic Square Camping Tent with Foyer | Two Sizes

This square-tent record includes a foyer and two size groups, 240 × 240 cm and 210 × 210 cm. Each row contains two height figures, shown together as supplied. Keep that distinction in your enquiry and request a drawing identifying the measurement points. The published weights are 4.2 and 3.8 kg; use the corresponding packed dimensions when comparing the two versions.

This folding grill is listed with a 24 × 24 × 5 cm packed size and a 1,361 g reference weight. The material options include 304 stainless steel, 201 stainless steel and iron. These are distinct ordering choices; do not label every version as 304 stainless steel. The small 1–2 person presentation describes its intended group format, not a certified cooking output.

3L Waterproof Hiking Jacket | Custom Logo Seam-Sealed Outerwear

Here 3L means three-layer construction, not a three-litre capacity. The jacket record describes a composite shell, sealed seams and specified front-zipper and pocket construction, with embroidery as a logo option. For a branded sample, mark the proposed embroidery location and retain the seam and closure details in the brief. The listing does not publish a numeric breathability or hydrostatic-head result.
